

What are the Neurology-specific PQRS Measures?

PQRS has both individual measures and measures groups that are neurology-specific. Individual measures include epilepsy, ALS, and stroke; measures groups include dementia, Parkinson's disease, and sleep apnea. It is important to remember that neurologists are not limited to only these measures. There are individual measures that apply to all physicians, such as medication reconciliation, unhealthy alcohol use, smoking cessation and falls, to name a few. EP's are encouraged to select the measures that make the most sense for their practices. In some cases, some non-neurology specific measures may be a good fit.

The AAN PQRS Website contains additional information on PQRS measures.
